INSTITUT DE HAUTES
ÉTUDES INTERNATIONALES
ET DU DÉVELOPPEMENT
GRADUATE INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL AND DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Is presenting its study programmes and scholarship opportunities at the University of Tokyo, October 8, 12.10-13.00.

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies is one of the world's leading centres of teaching and research focusing on international relations and development issues. The Graduate Institute offers a wide range of postgraduate (master and PhD) programmes in international relations, international law, international history, international economics, anthropology and development studies and awards over 200 scholarships (for a total student body of 800). The Institute has a long-standing reputation of excellence and is home to a diverse and vibrant group of students and faculty from all over the world (80% of students are international).

As a member of APSIA, regrouping the world's most renowned schools of international affairs, the Graduate Institute is regularly quoted amongst Europe's best institutions in the field. It counts amongst its alumni Kofi Annan (former UN secretary general), Hans-Gert Pöttering (former President of the European Parliament), Hernando de Soto (President of Peru's Institute for Liberty and Democracy), Nobuyuki Idei (former Chairman of Sony Corporation), as well as the foreign ministers of Switzerland, Micheline Calmy-Rey (retired 2012), and Mexico, Patricia Espinosa. Being situated in Geneva, a hub of multilateral diplomacy, the Graduate Institute provides its students with a wide range of job and internship opportunities in the many IOs and NGOs that are neighbouring it, including the WTO, UNHCR, WIPO, ILO, ICRC, UNEP, UNDP, WHO, Amnesty International and many more.
